

Presenter: Karen Cortell Reisman
Spelled phonetically: Karen Core-tell Rice-men

Introduction for Karen

Please read as is! NO NEED to memorize.

Even though Karen Cortell Reisman has spoken in 34 states, Canada, and in Germany; she once stood up to give a speech and her skirt fell down.

Even though she has authored 2 books, writes a monthly column for a national trade magazine, and has her audiences listening, laughing, and learning; she always forgets to buy something at the grocery store.

And, even though for the past 16 years Karen has taught many organizations how to be more productive by communicating effectively; she was rejected as her high school valedictorian due to a B in Home Economics because her blueberry muffins were lumpy and leaning to the left.

As seen on Good Morning America – well, ok, you only saw 10% of her right ear - please help me welcome ----

Karen Cortell Reisman!